HOW A CASE IN THE CITT WOULD BE DEALT WITH.

mbniances Refitted with Rubber Beds, and Disinfecting Tanks Erected in East Sixteenth Street-Forty Bestors at Call. The Columbia of the Anchor line, which arrived on Tuesday from the Mediterranean, is clean and in good condition. She has been fumigated, and will probably be permitted to come up the bay to-day. She brought 344 im-migrants. The Burgundia's physician evidently profited by the experience of the Alesia. She has been retained and fumigated at Quarantine, however, but will probably be released It is now declared that there is not a case of cholers in the port, all those who had the dis-ease having either died or recovered.

Mayor Hewitt wrote to President James C.
Bayies of the New York City Board of Health the other day inquiring what ground there was for apprehension of an invasion of cholera, and what steps had been taken to guard against its spread should a case of it appear in this city. In his reply President Bayles disclaims any responsibility for or personal knowledge of guarantine arrangements down the bay, they being under the control of State officers. As

The department is at present in excellent shape to handle promptly and effectively any ordinary outbreak of contagious disease. The general sanitary condition of the city is such that it will not find a favorable breeding ground here. The medical corps of the department is well organized, and every man has been carefully instructed in writing what to do it sasigned to cholera duty and how to do it. We have at the present time forty physicians, many of them experienced sanitary inspectors, who have been several years in the service of the department, available for this and kindred lines of work. We have large quantities of disinfecting solutions ready for instant use, and are prepared to employ them freely. Our plan of action has been carefully considered, and reems to be adapted to every probable emergency. The ambulances have been reconstructed, provided with tight bottoms and sides, stripped of all uphoistery, and supplied with special facilities for safely removing cholera patients. The mattresses with which they were formerly provided have been removed, and rubber beds substituted. Several bets of blankets have also been provided that t may be unnecessary to use the same bedding for two cases without intermediate disinfection. At the hospitals we are ready for as many patients as can be expected under the most improbable conditions. In a word, we are so well prepared that notice of cholera in the city would occasion no confusion. A word will set in motion a system equal to anything hat can happen, save an overwhelming outbreak, which we have no reason to expect.

"In dealing effectively with any form of contagious disease better facilities for disinfection of clothing, bedding, &c., than have hithers, which we have no reason to expect.

"In dealing effectively with any form of contagious diseases better facilities for disinfection for the purpose. They are of boiler from the well and the set of the purpose. They are of boiler from the well and the contagion of clothing, bedding, &c., than have hither the set of the city and the set of the cit ports.

"While the health laws and regulations are matters of exclusive State and local jurisdiction, yet, the President being anxious to lend any aid to sanitation in his power. I have admend he his affraction, a personal note to dressed, by his direction, a personal note to the Italian Minister at this capital inviting his aid in procuring increased precautions and vigilance in the inspection of vessels clearing from Italy to the United States, and have sent by cable suggestions of a like tenor to our Minister at Rome."

The Italian Government announced offi-cially a few days ago that there were no longer any cases of cholera in Italy.

Col. Ingeresti and Mr. Cheate Indulge in a Lively Passage at Arms. Joseph H. Choate and Col. Robert G. Ingerchambers, resterday before Judge Barrett.
Col. Ingersoli was there to represent Arthur Dyett, the surviving partner of the firm of Dyett & Morton, as assignee of John C. Eno. who is still in Canada. upon a claim aggregat-ing $450.512.50, resulting from Eno's specula-tions, against Seymour, Baker & Co. Col. In-gersoll was supported by Gen. Francis C. Barow, while Mr. Choate had as his second on the side of the defandants Allan W. Evarts. son of The suit was brought shortly after Mr. Eno

The suit was brought shortly after Mr. Eno disappeared. It is alleged that for some time prior to his departure—between Jan. I and May 15, 1884—Eno speculated through Seymour, Baker & Co., and they purchased for him, as his brokers and agents, stocks to the amount of over $2,500,000. On May 15, 1884, it is charged he directed them to sell out, and they pretended that they did, and he was compelled to pay them over $400,000 in commissions, difference in losses, &c. It is this amount, with interest, that is sought to be recovered.

Mr. Dyett as assignee claims that Seymour, Baker & Co. did not purchase stocks for Bank President Eno, as he had directed them to do, and did not sell according to his orders, but declares that on May 14, when Eno directed them to sell they simply figured up his socounts and charged him the regular commissions, when in reality they made no sales whatever. One transaction is concerning the purchase of $603,225 of Union Pacific shares and other stock, for which Eno agreed to pay the usual commission. In May, 1884, the firm requested Eno to take the stock off their hands, which he did, and then they presented a bill of $151,350 for losses and $937,50 as commissions. Then, it is alleged, Eno told them to give the stock to Dyett's firm, and in consequence of such direction Seymour, Baker & Co. were required to purchase the necessary shares, it being charged that they never had any such transaction as Mr. Eno had been led to believe they had.

Col. Ingersoil said that Mr. Choate had falsely stated the contents of a decision of the Appellate Court upon aside issue in the case.

Mr. Choate instantly jumped to his feet and said that it was entirely unnecessary for Col. Ingersoil to use any such language, or to talk about falsehoods and lies.

Did I accuse you of stating a falsehood?" demanded Col. Ingersoil.

You did."

demanded Col. Ingersoil.

"You did."

"I said nothing of the kind," returned the Colonel, "What I did say was that you stated the decision of the General Term just the opposite from what it was." The Colonel referred to the decision, and then, as a parting shot, remarked: "If you want a personal altercation with me you can have it;" but Mr. Choate made no response.

At the close of the legal discussion Col. Ingersoil advanced toward Mr. Choa'e in what some persons might have taken as a threatening manner, and they had what appeared to be a few anary words, spoken in a low tone of voice. Mr. Choate wore his usual caim expression, and did not seem to be at all frightened by his heavy opponent, whom he has had occa-ion to meet previously in legal and wordy hattles. They separated without doing any mischief, and left the court room followed by their seconds, leaving Judge Barrett to decide upon the point when he gets ready.

Police Justice Welde had, or Tuesday night, started to ride to his home in Harlem on the rear platform of a Third avenue horse car The driver of a small iron wagon, heavily loaded, turned his team square into the car. The shock knocked the car on to the down track. Three women sild off the seats on to the floor, Justice Welde unceremoniously sat in their laps, and conductor No. 103 went head and shoulders through a window. No one received any serious injury. Justice Welde limped a little yesterday.

This is not a disappointed politician, but fitly represents the feelings of a man who has been unfortunate in his choice of a clothier.

We are catering to a trade that appreciates good clothes and willingly pays reasonable prices-prices just high enough to secure the very best fabrics and workmanship with a small profit to the producer.

Before ordering a custom suit or Overcoat let us show you what we have ready to wearyou will surely be pleased.

Choking Catarrh.

chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that ceed the effort to clear your throat and head of this erhal matter? What a depressing influence it ex erts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat, and lungs of this potent one mucus all can certify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress toward the lungs, liver, and kidneys, all physi-for relief and cure.

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and re-

Bable references.
